Great demonstrations had been arranged for several places in the order of business, notably n the entry of Mayor Johnson, the preentation of his name for Governor, his acceptance and participation in the inrsement of a candidate for Senator Hanna's place, and those expecting good exhibition were not disappointed.

While the number of delegates was 300 less than at the recent Republican convention, the attendance of visitors was much larger, the auditorium being packed to its capacity of 5,000. When Tom L. The reading clerk paused again whe he reached Clark County, but the only esponse from Judge Hagan was that there was no candidate from that district. With Mr. Zimmerman, Johnson's only opponent, thus removed, a motion was made to make the nomination unanimous. It was carried by acclamation, the applause shaking the timbers of the old wigwam and lasting several minutes

Over the selection of a senatorial candidate it appeared from the audible signs that Johnson might fail to sway the convention for his candidate, John H. Clarke, on account of the fact that the latter in 1896 left the silver wing. A triangular contest arose between Messrs. Clarke, Saltzgaber and ex-Congressman Lentz. In the nomination speeches the speakers were not chary in pouring vituperation on the Republican leaders in convention. The nomination came after Ohio, Senator Hanna being the particular target of their sarcasm.

"We want a man who can expose th toad-like corruption of Mark Hanna, and the putrid machinations of the rest of the Republican State machine," shouted ention opened Wednesday the delegates C. E. An ovation second only to that given Mayor Johnson greeted the choice for Senator when he appeared on the platform. He was introduced by the chairman in a speech that drifted into the old school of convention oratory until it was cut short by a wag in the rear. "Let dead issues remain defunct," he said. TWO-MINUTE TROTTER. Lon Dillon Breaks the World's Record

This year is destined to remain men able in the history of the horse. Not only has the running record been broken, but the pacing record, thanks to the achievement of that nimble and willing animal Dan Patch, has been broken. Now comes the news of a still more extraordinary performance in the announcement that at Readville, Mass., Lou Dillon trotted a mile in two mine

Lou Dillon, owned by C. K. G. Billings of Chicago, is the new world's trotting champion, having displaced great Cresceus in her trial against time at Readville. So easily did the little universal opinion of harness-horce men that Lou Dillon can beat the 2:00 mark and possibly she can come close to the ess record of 1:59 made by the pacer

Dan Patch. No one who has paid even cursory attention to the development of the hors needs to be told what this announcemen means to the horse breeders of the world For nearly a century the speed recor for trotting horses has been slowly low ered, each decade seeing a few second lopped off from the three-minute record which was deemed fast at the beginning of the nineteenth century. Fifty years whether they favor a ship subsidy bill ago the fact that a speed of a mile in two and a half minutes was obtainable was accepted with surprise and elation. The extraordinary fame won by Maud E. in 1885 was due to the fact that she had reduced the trotting record below 2:10. For many years Maud S.'s record of a mile in 2:08% represented the limit of speed obtainable by trotters, and from that time to this the possibility of evolv-ing a horse which would cut the record to two minutes has been in the minds of rsemen throughout the world. While The Abbot and, later, Cresceu ecceded in cutting the record still fursucceeded in cutting the record still fur-ther, it has remained for the fleet-footed Lou Dillon to take the honor of making the first two minute record. The poss bility of trotting a mile in two minute is no longer in dispute. It is an accon plished fact. The only question now is whether some still speedier animal may not lop a few more seconds off the record and thus establish a new goal for the ambition of the horse fancier. The steady of the Philippine commission having beer increase in the speed of trotters to be of a distinguished character. one-raile record was lowered by fiftytarian importance at first glance, but the truth is that it has been accomplished by a general improvement in horses. The two-minute trotter stands as proof that stronger, sounder, swifter animals are harnessed to all manner of horse-drawn ways thus far in August show an average gain of 9.6 per cent over last year and 18.2 per cent over 1901. Complaint is beginning to be heard re-garding the inadequate facilities of the railways, and it now appears that inconenced, notwithstanding the extensive improvements. Sensational stories of the large number of buyers now at this center and the fabulous sums that they spend cannot be accepted as statistically accurate, but it is probable that an increase over all previous years is actually occurring despite the demoralization in cotton goods caused by speculation in the raw material.

Although production of coke at Conellsville has been moderately curtailed supplies accumulate and prices are de-pressed. A fairly liberal tonnage of iron has been placed during the past week, providing abundant demand for all the pig that is being made. More large contracts for iron and steel have been placed by a prominent manufacturer of agricul-tural machinery, and as much of this business has been held back entirely on ecount of prices, it is believed that no further concessions are to be expected.

In view of the very satisfactory job bing trade that is reported in dry goods, it is surprising that no reflection of the activity is seen in the primary market. Makers of cotton goods find no business offering except such small orders for immediate requirements as emanate from urgent dealers.

Moderate orders for light-weight wool-ens and worsteds have been placed for ens and worsteds have been placed for spring delivery. Heavy shipments of shoes from Boston make striking comparisons with preceding years, and the volume of new business promises to maintain a heavy movement, but it is noteworthy that there is a tendency to operate moderately and frequently this year, rather than to buy seldom and largely as in other seasons.
